Marvelous Elixir of Life Discovered by Famous Doctor-Scientist That Cures Every Known Ailment

Wonderful Cures Are Effectuated That Seem Like Miracles Performed—The Secret of Long Life of Olden Times Revived.

The Remedy Is Free to All Who Send Name and Address.

After years of patient study and delaying but due to record of the past as well as following medical experiments in the realms of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 327 First National Bank Building, First Avenue, Ind., makes the startling announcement that he has surely discovered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving elixir to cure any and every disease that known to the human body. There is no doubt the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he daily effectuates seem to bear him out very strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try this so-called "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free to any one who is suffering in sufficient quantities to prove of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to take.

Some of the cures he relates are very convincing and but for reliable witness could hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick given up by some doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and blood disorders disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fevers, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and all infections of the throat, lungs or any vital organs are easily overcome by the power of this elixir.

REPORTS.

J. S. McClelland, overseer of the poor submitted his report for the quarter ending September 9th, making the following showing:

Provisions	$1,297.21
Coal	69.05
Transportation	52.59

Building Transients	21.50

Total	$1,501.63

The report was received and placed on file.

AT THE POOR FARM.

Stewart Kirkman of the poor farm made his report. Notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions of the year the farm is in fairly good shape with the exception of vegetables and fruits, of which the steward usually manages to raise a plentiful supply. The drought, however, killed them off this year. He reports that he has 13 head of cattle on land, 65 hogs, 6 horses, 700 bushels of corn, 900 bushels of oats, 200 bushels of wheat and 30 on the farm for seed. The farm has dear and corn meal in plentiful supply due from the mill.

The supervisors will meet again this morning and will be session for several days.

GRANT THE RIGHT

Interurban Gets Privilege to Put Down Tracks in Macon County.

MACON'S NEW SUPERVISOR

H. L. Hight of Macon succeeds H. R. Woodcock—Proceedings of the First Day of the County Board.

The members of the board of supervisors with the exception of H. R. Woodcock, assembled yesterday for the purpose of the annual meeting, one of the most important of the year. Although the board was in session but a few hours, during the afternoon a number of important matters came up and were acted upon. Notice was given from Macon township that H. R. Woodcock had resigned as a member of the board and that E. L. Hight had been named for this place. The credentials of Mr. Hight were examined and he was admitted to membership taking the place on the committee on which Mr. Woodcock had formerly served.

THE INTERURBAN.

Charles P. Grinnell and H. W. Kidder filed their petition for the right of way through Macon county for their interurban road which is to run from this city to Bloomington. They had plenty of signatures and stated that the road would be operated without steam power. They also said that the rails of the new road would be at least eighteen feet from the center of the public highway.

NOTHING TO SIDE STRIPS.

Now lay one inch wide pieces on both ends of the rails, so that one piece will rest on the rails of the top row, and these pieces to the sides of the 2x4s which are to be laid on the rails, and begin another set of sections about eighteen inches from the first, and fill up the house with these rails eight inches apart, so that one can walk between the sections and examine the corn at any time.

ROOSEVELT.

Vice President Roosevelt has never disgraced the people either in war or in peace. In the order through which he has just passed he has made no mistake and when the people come to calmly consider Roosevelt's conduct in connection with the injury of the president and the fact in the view that he would do, the will it much that is new to nature in the man. There are many who have based upon the vice president as being impulsive and therefore liable to be wrong. This will have to review their opinion. The vice president, as other public men, has close personal friends and other friends who may not be the ones he personal. These all want to see him do the things that will be most advantageous to him. When it was thought the president would do the friend had advice on tap to give him. Some of them advised that he immediately go to Washington. Others advised that he go at once to his home and remain there. But Roosevelt himself said, I am going direct to Buffalo where my wounded chief lies hovering between life and death. I go there because it is my duty to be where I can be of service to my countrymen needed.

Suppose Mr. Roosevelt had taken the advice of the who wanted him to start at once to Washington as soon as word was received that the president was shot and that his wound was fatal. Suppose after he arrived there and all had hoped just as it has and the president was destined out of danger he would have been expected to start showing an overpowering desire to become president and of a fear that some one in case of the president's death might deprive him of the right of succession. The plain facts are that he went to Washington in the confidence that the attack on McKinley in a matter of indifference.

If Senator Wellington is correctly reported he is a fit companion for Czolgosz. The assassin moved in a narrow sphere while the Maryland item is a member of the United States Senate. He himself a part of the government and yet is indifferent to the murder of Congress might take a few minutes off the consideration of less important matters and fix up the few defective pieces of presidential machinery.

Anarchists and yellow journals seem to understand each other. Each accuses the other of having prepared the attack on the president. Both ought to be wiped off the face of the earth because one is as dangerous to society as the other.

Emma Goldman, having tried marriage once with a man who failed in politics for grand larceny, she now opposes marriage. She is wrong, however, in opposing it as a principle.

It is some consolation to know that Emma Goldman and Senator Wellington in the delegation that the attack on McKinley in a matter of indifference.

If all nations act in conjunctions in expelling anarchists they will round up where all good people want them to be in the middle of the sea.

There was another Wellington. He is immortal fame. His namesake in America will go down in immortal shame.

IMPATIENT THOUGHTS.
Some sayings of President McKinley:

"What you want, what we all want, is business prosperity. When you have that you have something to do. When you have it not you are idle."

"The more you use the freight car the often you see the pay car."

"It is a great thing for the farmer to have men employed in shop and factory."

"It is a great thing for men to be employed; and I have discovered that when the employer seeks labor, labor gets better pay than when the labor seeks employment."

"We are here today because we love the old flag. It never went down in defeat. It was never raised in dishonor."

"The work is now with you; for in a government like ours the people constitute the power of the government."

"No country, no epoch or race has a monopoly upon knowledge."

ANARCHY SHOULD BE EXTERMINATED.
The recovery of President McKinley now seems fairly assured unless some unforeseen complication sets in. His recovery will cause great rejoicing because the president is universally admired and also, because in his recovery the object of the assassin will have been defeated. It is hard to understand the motives of such anarchist attacks. Had the president died the government would have gone on without a hindrance. The vice president would become president and therefore nothing would have been accomplished by way of attaining the anarchist's ideal, the destruction of all government. This is not only true in this form of government but is also true in monarchial governments. In all governments there is always provision for succession. Surely the anarchist understands that there will never come a time when he will be instrumental in calling men of that class into a regiment he refused the command on the ground that he was unskilled in war and not competent to take the command of the regiment and recommended Wood. Not one man in a thousand would have let such an opportunity pass to get a commission as colonel and accept a lieutenant colonel.

In pursuing this course he not only displayed consideration for the men but a very high standard of prudence and sound judgment. The learned war rapidly and led his regiment as well as the best trained officer could have led it at the battle of Santiago. During the presidential campaign, in his tour of the states, he uttered no word nor committed any act that could be justly criticized and since his election his conduct has uniformly been that of a man with a sound head and an upright heart. The American people will be quick to upbore that in his conduct while passing the recent order he has added largely to the esteem in which they hold him.

YELLOW JOURNALS.

The yellow journals are inciting fools to murder Roosevelt by assuring that the country views with alarm his possible succession to the presidency. The same journals have also charged McKinley with the most infamous motives. Why not settle the yellow journal danger as well as the anarchist danger?

The St. Louis Globe Democrat sums up the whole matter in the following truthful manner:

"The Tribune, Mingo, Czolgosz and the yellow papers have been playing into each other's hands. All alike denounce presidents as despots, imperialists, tools of monarchical, the blabberlings of honest toil. Emma Goldman made a previous speech in Philadelphia, in which she said: 'My creed is that of force. I propose that a monster parade of the down-trodden workingmen pass the houses of the capitalists who rob them and should this not have the desired effect resort to force.' She advised men who had nothing 'to take the broad and easy way to power' and the yellow press denounced them by capital from the back shop and man from the lecture. I believe that anarchist will govern in the end. We want a revolution in this country. It can prosper." When this demon again appeared in Philadelphia the authorities stopped her meeting and for this act the yellow papers denounced the mayor as a lawless, stupid despot and said he was provoking force in reply to force. The yellow press in the United States is the main prop of the Goldmunks and the Czolgoszs."

If Senator Wellington is correctly reported he is a fit companion for Czolgosz. The assassin moved in a narrow sphere while the Maryland item is a member of the United States Senate. He himself a part of the government and yet is indifferent to the murder of Congress might take a few minutes off the consideration of less important matters and fix up the few defective pieces of presidential machinery.

The Chicago Tribune's "Linen-type or two" man took his vacation just at the time to prevent the Decatur ball club from getting into his caudal-appendage ledger. It seems misfortune did not come singly to our ball team. They came in blocks and drove.

The stability of the financial condition of the country is shown in the slight fluctuations incident to the great tragedy at Buffalo. If there had not been the utmost confidence in the present conditions serious trouble might have come. The prospect of a new president created no panic because Roosevelt was considered a safe man.

Great care should be exercised in choosing a man for vice president. Only one life stands between him and the head of the nation. It was fortunate that a man of true nobility was ready to face the emergency arose to assume the reins of government. With a less courageous man than Roosevelt there would have been serious consequences in the shooting of President McKinley.

Who shall say when the constitutional disability exists which calls the vice president to exercise the functions of the presidency? By the law there is one who can do this. Here is a weak spot to be strengthened. Garfield was shot July 2, 1881, and lingered until Sept. 19. During that time there was practically no president. Vice President Arthur did not act as president until President Garfield died. Fortunately it was a public question demanding presidential action arose. The cabinet officers at the head of the departments of the government kept public business moving and no embarrassment was felt. In case a crisis had arisen and President Garfield had been unable to act who would have assumed the disability? Congress might take a few minutes off the consideration of less important matters and fix up the few defective pieces of presidential machinery.

Does not this attempt to destroy the president amount to an overt act of treason? Had Czolgosz been one of a band of men to attack and destroy the government they would have been treated as traitors and punished accordingly. If the law as it now stands is not sufficient to make the crime treason it should be made so to do. An attempt upon the life of the president or vice president or any other act by any man or body of men to subvert the government ought to be punished with the extreme of human punishment. He who raises his hand against government when government is by the people is an enemy of social order and is an anarchist. One who teaches the miserable doctrine that all who rule and govern are their enemies and are oppressing them should be made to feel that the nation's first duty is self-preservation. The Herr Mingo, the Emma Goldmans and others less bold and outspoken in their sentiments should be made to feel the strong hand of the law no other traitors are made to feel it. It is folly to wait until the lathes have given the fatal blow before starting to exterminate the reptile. It is too late now to punish Czolgosz because it will in any way act for his cowardly and hellish attack on the president. It is high time that measures were enacted to hold men responsible for treasonable utterances. Freedom of speech ought not to be construed into license to incite to mob and murder. Congress, therefore, owes a speedy duty to the country. It should make a law that an attempt to take the life of the president or vice president of the United States or the teaching of anarchy or other doctrine calculated to incite to anarchy or crime against the government should be treason and punishable with death.

Anarchists are mere social vipers and should be destroyed.

There is no good anarchist but a dead anarchist. Let congress act as speedily as the wheels of legislation can be turned. Adequate punishment should scare every enemy of this country in the face when he would strike down those chosen by the people to execute the laws.

"No country, no epoch or race has a monopoly upon knowledge."

NEW LAWS NEEDED.

The attempt to assassinate President McKinley brings forcibly to the people of this country the need of more effective measures to meet the doctrinaire ideals of these social madmen. Should the president recover, under the laws as they now exist, the punishment can only be a brief term in prison. No law can now be passed under which this demon can be tried. Ex post facto laws are not constitutional. The attempt to kill a president is more than an assault. In the past have changed the destiny of nations in a few cases, but it never shook the faith of the masses in the belief that government is necessary for the welfare of the people. These facts only go to show that if anarchists persist in murdering rulers and refuse to adopt the methods belonging to the present world civilization to establish their ideal it ought to be wiped off the face of the earth by destroying every teacher and hindering every den of them that are organized or attempt to organize.

Who are the anarchist in this country? Principally men and women of foreign birth who know absolutely nothing about our form of government and who never made an effort to study it. They learned to oppose all governments where they were born and long for a society without government. To them sheriffs, marshals and policemen mean only oppression. They are incapable of learning the difference between liberty and law. Why, his wife and his wife are sweethearts, same as when they lay him now. They say when he comes home from work he sets down in his chair. They're just a happy man and wife, a devoted loving pair.

Another fact they fail to grasp is the fact that while we have political parties that entertain convictions as to public policy and contend for the mastery and while the president elected stands for one or the other of these parties, he is the president of the whole people and applies those policies he deems best for the prosperity of the country. All the power a president has he derives from the people and is limited to the length of time he may administer the law. An attack upon a president is an attack upon the people. This is demonstrated by the universal indignation among the intelligent over the attempt on the life of McKinley. When a president is attacked in this republic, except in times of great excitement as when Lincoln was assassinated, political differences are buried and every patriotic citizen who has some regard for the assault as personal and feels accordingly. He feels just as he would if a foreign nation were to attack us without cause. This goes to demonstrate the infamy of anarchist teaching in this country by those beetle-headed scabs. The whole outfit of anarchist teachers and disciples should be exterminated in this republic. The people are now in a mood to see it done and laws should at once be enacted with that end in view and enforced to the letter until the whole infamous breed is exterminated or forever silenced.

The president's fortitude and courage have been large factors in aid of his recovery.

By way of allaying the alarm of his wife the president is reported to have said to her: "We have fought many a battle since our marriage and we can fight this one." The president's fortitude and courage have been large factors in aid of his recovery.

FOR TELEPHONE LINES.
The petition of the highway commissioners of Harrison township for roads to the bridge over the Sangamon in that township was read and referred. The special committee to whom had been referred the matter of the compensation of the mine inspector, recommended that the subject go to the fees and salaries committee, but on motion of Mr. Hubbard, it was referred to the judiciary committee.

ASK COAL RIGHTS.
The Manufacturers' and Consumers' Coal company filed a petition asking for the purchase of the coal rights under Fairview park. The petition was read and referred to a committee to report later.

FOR TELEPHONE LINES.
George B. Spitzer of Mt. Zion asked the board to grant him the right to erect telephone poles and lines along the public highways in the south part of the county. The petition was referred to the judiciary committee.

WANTS MORE SALARY.
William Cramshaw, recently appointed mine inspector for this county, appeared before the board and asked for an increase in salary. When he first received his appointment the master of pay was left in the hands of a special committee and they reported in favor of giving him $250 for each day's actual work, but limiting the number of days that he could work to three. Later the committee agreed to increase the number of days to four. Mr. Cramshaw thinks this is not enough and wants the board to make some other arrangement.

A report on the matter will be made during the present session.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.
"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Macomb, Ill., when the doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of consumption.

After taking, she slept all night. During the night she was entirely cured her.

"This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only $1 and $10. Third bottle free at J. E. King, N. L. Kline, and S. W. Bell's drugstores."

WHAT MARY SAID TO ME.

ON Saturday "Dad" Stevens, Mary's step-sister said to me that day they were to McKinley down, when he was buried 'twixt our president and the king they wear a crown, A king that has no crown—excepting his days, A king has made beautiful by kind Heaven's ways.

He is a ruler but a guide for us, and in the dead night, so far to find, he is a king of royalty, by the grace of the invisible that make us live.

He is a king from the Commanding Troops that wear an' their hats, an' know their way, an' come from his broad an' wide, an' it's his way, an' never to be told.

He is a president than a king, an' his sweethearts, when the day wuz new, comes from work in his chair, an' the man an' wife, a man's own.

He is a president, just like a king, an' how a man can buy for them—would be the last, the God is holdin' him in his hand, an' the material life, for he is a man's find.

He is a king of awful trial, in the race for death he can, an' last the president and the man, an' the love of his Maker, what he can do, which he grace reflects the true.

DETAILS OF THE CAPTURE.

Story of How Czolgoz Was Overpowered.

SAID Czolgoz, regarding the arrest, "I was stopped out, and because I was stopped there is likely to be a trial, so I went to who's to be the trial, the capture of Czolgoz, the Chicago Tribune, Czolgoz has been precipitated by the report of the secret service to the chief, Wilson at Washington.

I have learned, however, from the Tribune, that it is a trial of the belief that the man of the shooting the two shots were to be sent to trial, and entered to the trial. Almost unanimous was the trial of the secret service, Parker, a son of a powerful man, and a winter of the 13th, a son of the fair, son of a man from behind and particularly in the trial. Nearly at the trial, the secret service operative, Czolgoz, with his hand in his pocket, and with the other, a blow which started rapidly toward the other, a blow which was on top and under them. At this moment, Dr. George Gallagher of Chicago, was called to Buffalo to help the president, shaped under the trial. As a result, Czolgoz held the revolver at arm's length, and apparently attempted to fire again. Get out, Czolgoz, and Foster to Gallagher, of the Czolgoz, was detected by an extra, who detected the pistol from the man's hand.

DETROIT CHICAGOAN.

The bullet was carried at the scene of the trial, holding a revolver, and a bullet from him almost to insure that he took the pistol away from him. They could not know he was a secret, but Czolgoz was a man to the good, King's Czolgoz made a break within a short distance of the wire, he might have been a factor.

In the second heat of that race, Czolgoz, Old Fashion and L. L. B. squarely to last, raced down the back stretch and into the home stretch. At the distance Czolgoz lost his stride and before he settled the heat had gone to Old Fashion and second place to L. L. B. Old Fashion won the third heat and the inspiration of light wings with the start. All the way Czolgoz had contest and Billy B. tried to get into the action, finding a good third.

In the fourth heat Czolgoz spoiled an exciting finish by making a bad break in the stretch. Billy B. and Spindrift were not close enough to give Old Fashion the game he had, and he headed the heat and race.

2:24 TROT.

The first heat of the 2:24 pace was also the trotting event. W. W. J. and L. L. B. came to the wire so closely that it was a bare nose in favor of W. W. J. Trotter was third, L. L. B. half a length.

In the second heat Trotter broke as soon as he got the word, then Challe Downing did the same. In the stretch they were fighting with W. W. J. for the place. At the first Challe went into the air and landed third, with Trotter a close second to W. W. J.

In the second heat it had been whispered that Challe was after that particular heat, no other. In the third he succeeded in taking the place with W. W. J. second and Trotter a good third. The finish was less exciting than the first two.

In the fourth, driving W. W. J. challenged Challe Downing, the 2:24 as soon as the word was given, to win the back stretch W. W. J. went to a terrible clip, leading the field in an easy way. At the half Challe Downing went after the leader in splendid style and was almost on even terms coming to the stretch. The mare seemed to go in the last eighth and could not end the race, although the mile was not quite so fast as the one she had run. Trotter was second and Black Rose third, followed by Challe Downing.

The sorrel mare, having won a heat, secured second place in the division of the race.

2:24 TROT-SPECIAL.

The 2:24 special was between Decatur and those persons who did not say to see it out missed a race. Prince Edward, Phelan, Tom Greco and Arena C. were entered. In the second Phelan came with a rush over time and the center was compelled to warn Downing, who was not really at fault, for the horse seemed to take the bit in his teeth and wanted to do all of his racing at the start. The first heat went to Phelan with Arena C. bringing up the rear. The mare seemed unsteady. In the second and third heats, however, she proved that she was

NOTES.

R. N. Newton of Yorkville, Ill., is the starter. In this case the statement means that it says, Some men merely wear the title. Perhaps fortune favored Mr. Newton on the first day, but if judgment might be recorded by virtue of what he did the first day the truth would be that he is the best man in the place that ever officiated in Decatur. He does not talk, and does not impose rules just to make a kick stick.

There was a time when he might have made a kick stick.

In another way the opening day was notable. With one exception, in the trot and the 2:22 pace the heads of neck and neck, and never until the race was finished was there any telling who would win the contest. The interest was not in the low marks that make, but when there are two or three horses struggling on even terms with both heads to win even though the interest is increased? That's the way it was today. The first thing that was brought out just such a case as this was that all the way through except in one heat of the trotting. Always there were three horses within one length of a horse's easily and the time was fast for the race.

2:26 TROT.

The first heat of the first race, the 2:26, was pretty much as ever seen. There was no whipping, but it was no neck and neck finish. There was no question as to the winner, but the judge had no seconds for anything but the two horses as they came to the wire. The heat was between Crotones and Old Fashion. It is possible that Fleming might have won if he had commenced his drive a little sooner, for he was coming on fast, but Crotones was a nose to the good. King's Czolgoz made a break within a short distance of the wire, else he might have been a factor.

TELEGRAPH NEWS

Chicago, Sept. 11.—The police tonight sent an urgent message to the authorities at Buffalo asking them to take action which will enable the police here to hold the anarchists now in custody. Decided after demand has been made either for proof of complicity in the attempted assassination of the president, or that requisition papers be forwarded. The Chicago police say they will not be able to hold the anarchists after Friday morning unless the Buffalo authorities take some steps in the matter. Chief O'Neill tonight said: "As a matter of fact, I must admit we have no proof of any kind against Miss Goldman or any other prisoner. We are dependent entirely on Buffalo for evidence or proofs that will enable us to hold the suspects in custody." Mayor Harrison said: "It is pretty plain now that there was no plot formed in Chicago. If there was a conspiracy anywhere it was made in the east." The police made public the telegram which passed between Chief Bull of Buffalo and Captain Collier. They make it clear that the arrests made here were solely to have the anarchists in evidence of any kind might later develop.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Edmund Wolzynski, friend of the newspaper story which connected him in name with that of Leon Czolgosz, gave himself up to the local police. He said he had known Czolgosz in Cleveland and knew the members of the latter's family. He was recently in Buffalo but left there for Chicago before the attack upon the president was made. In Cleveland he was the editor of a Polish paper, "The Morning Star." He is working as a printer in Chicago, although he wife and baby still live in Cleveland. Chief O'Neill had an hour's interview with him this afternoon, at the conclusion of which he announced there seemed to be no reason for holding the evidently parson.

London, Sept. 11.—Martial Lawgorn, a Prussian, who was charged today at Chelmsford, police court, with the murder of Henry Jung, an oil jeweler of Chelmsford, ten days ago, told a remarkable story of a plot to kill Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary. Jung said he had been the recipient of small loans from Jung. The day of the murder Jung summoned him to his shop, where there was discussed the mystery caused by the South African war, for which Jung declared Chamberlain was responsible. Jung told Chamberlain if he could kill Chamberlain, he, Jung, through intermediaries, would guarantee him a fortune, tendering him ten pounds to buy clothes in order to enable him to approach his victim. Jung says he refused, whereupon Jung picked up a heavy iron and rushed on Chelmsford and felled him to the ground. Lawgorn, in self defense, drew a knife and stabbed his assailant in the neck. The prisoner, who signed the认罪书, was committed for trial. Jung was a noted solicitor.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 11.—Samuel Kirby of Stoughton, Wis., a veteran Grand Army man, was expelled from the post for having it is alleged, remarked that "he would like to see the fellow who attempted to assassinate McKinley and give him a quarter." The common council of Stoughton also revoked Kirby's contract for street sprinkling.

Casper, Wyo., Sept. 11.—Hans Wagner, who is said to have expressed sympathy with Czolgosz, was today tarred and feathered and rubbed out of town on a rail. The citizens warned Wagner if he returned he would be lynched.

Cincinnati, Sept. 11.—Judge Clark of the United States district court of Clifton, today granted an injunction asked for by the American Tin Plate company restraining 250 strikers of Cambridge, Ohio, from interfering with non-union men. Marshal Fagan and deputies left to night to serve the writs.

Williamson, Curacao, Sept. 11.—The French cruiser Sudet, which left Porto Colombia, near Barranquilla, on the 6th, arrived here yesterday. On the way here she stopped at La Hachia, a town at the mouth of the Rio Hacha, situated in Colombia, on the west side of Guajira peninsula, about one hundred miles northwest of Maracaibo. The Sudet reports the steamer Alexandre Brixio landed one thousand Colombian troops from Barranquilla and Cartagena at La Hachia, on the 9th. The Venezuelan garrisons, Zambrano, Mucuna and two others were at La Hachia, the inhabitants of which do not expect the Venezuelan troops to be landed. The Colombian troops there were awaiting an attack. Within the last week the Colombians have received considerable reinforcements. If a Colombian and Venezuelan engagement occurs in the vicinity of La Hachia and the Venezuelans are successful it will give the latter a wide stretch of Colombian territory.

Holm, Prussia, Sept. 11.—The meeting today between Emperor Nicholas and Emperor William was viewed by perfect weather. The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern, flying the German and Russian imperial standards at the mast, welcomed the Imperial Russian yacht Standard, with an imperial salute, which the Standard returned, both crews dressing ship, while the bands played the Russian and German national anthems. Count Platow, the kaiser's aide, went on board the Standard to escort the czar, who went on board the Hohenzollern. The kaiser received the Imperial visitor at the gangway, where the two monarchs embraced each other. They then inspected the guard of honor together, after which they retired to the quarter deck, where they remained in animated conversation until luncheon, when the czar sat on the right of the kaiser, and Grand Duke Alexis on the left. The luncheon party included Count Lauerhoff, Russian foreign minister; Count Von Buelow, German imperial chancellor; Count Von Bismarck, Baron Frederick, Count Von Schleicher, Admiral Von Hoffmann and Admiral Von Tirpitz. Just as the meal ended Helm was sighted and the German squadron was drawn up in double line, the vessels being decorated with bunting and the crews manning the sides. The Hohenzollern, with their Imperial majesties on the Imperial bridge, steamed slowly between the lines, followed by the Standard and escort. The two vessels anchored at the heads of their respective lines, after which the admirals and principal officers of the squadron went on board the Hohenzollern and were presented to the czar.

London, Sept. 11.—The Times correspondent of the "Times" says:

"The sultan desires to give effect to the convention agreed to between his sympathizers and Lord Lansdowne in London last June. Letters have been received permitting the exportation of potatoes and other vegetables, the shipping of which was formerly not allowed, but this formed only one clause of the convention."

"This action of the sultan does not in itself the sincerity of his protestations of friendship for England."

"Disturbances in the country are increasing and amount almost to anarchy in many districts."

"The minister of foreign affairs believes that the Spanish captives carried off last May have been put to death. The Spanish government claims from the sultan £200 daily from the date of the capture until next Thursday, when it will take further steps. There is no indication that Madrid has yet decided what steps will be taken."

ESCAPED HIS RUEFULS WRATH.

Constitutional, Sept. 11.—Vice Adm. Frank Parker, chief of the general staff of the admiralty, has made his escape from Constitution, going by British steamer to Malta. Fear of the consequences of his removal to the coast of denouncing the administration in the navy, caused his flight. His property has been declared forfeited.

Wichita, Sept. 11.—The grand jury today brought in a indictment against William Martindale, charging him with robbing the Imperial National bank, which failed two years ago. President Cross of the bank, committed suicide at the time. Specification against Martindale is that he is abstracted and misappropriated six thousand dollars of the bank funds. An expert accountant has been examining the books of the bank, and as a result it is said that over a hundred thousand dollars have been embezzled.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Magistrate Prindiville today decided that Emma Goldman, the anarchist leader, under arrest here, should be held without bail pending the decision of a similar case in the supreme court.

The action of Judge Prindiville in holding her without bail extends only to Friday of this week. At that time the question will be reconsidered, and he will decide whether she is held without bail or released under bonds until a preliminary hearing of the charge against her, which is set for the 19th.

CASE CONTINUED.

Miss Goldman appealed for a hearing before the magistrate this morning. She had not secured counsel, but in a determined voice declared that she was ready to act as her own attorney. The assistant prosecutor, however, obtained a continuance of the hearing until the 16th, the date set for the hearing of the other anarchist in custody here. Owen, the prosecutor, stated that the result of the investigation at Buffalo will be decided on the 16th.

WICHITA, Sept. 11.—All the members of the Schley court of inquiry are now in Washington, Gen. Adm. Howison, the third member, arriving last night. Everything is ready for the meeting of the court. The impression at the navy department now is the taking of testimony will not begin tomorrow, although that was originally the expectation. A large number of witnesses in Washington are ready to take the stand at a moment's notice, but the formalities are expected to consume most of tomorrow's session. No summons have yet been issued for Admiral Sampson, and it is said very few formal summonses have been issued by the department.

ONE COURT CLOSES.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The longest court of inquiry in the history of the navy, that held at the Brooklyn navy yard to investigate the trouble in the navy corps, came to a sensational termination, bringing in a recommendation which may result in very serious consequences for an officer of high rank. Major C. H. Lauchlin and Colonel F. L. Denny charged Colonel Robert L. Mende with drunkenness on duty while the inspection was in progress at the Brooklyn navy yard. Mende replied by charging Lauchlin with making a false report, and Denny with reporting against him (Mende) in order to cover up irregularities with contractors on Denny's part. The court acquitted Lauchlin and Denny of Megele's charges. It sustained the charge against Mende and, in addition, charged him with a violation of the naval regulations in applying with counter charges when asked for a report; also of false swearing on the witness stand. The court recommended that the colonel be tried by court martial upon these charges. The court lasted four weeks.

Baltimore, Sept. 11.—At a meeting in the Bethel A. M. E. church, resolutions were adopted declaring the attempt to assassinate the president was "the fruition of the seed of tolerance of crimes too abhorrent and memorable against a native citizen, as represented by Parker, the probable preserver of the life of the president." Parker is referred to as the representative of "a rejected race at home, and regarded as the offal of American society." The resolutions further say "since Senator Benjamin Tillman is, by his own avowals an abettor of murder and rapine, it is hereby requested that he be expelled from the senate that the lives of our public officers be not further menaced by the monstrosity of his presence, and perverseness of his teachings and example."

CLINTON, Sept. 11.—Special.—The DeWitt county board of supervisors today granted to H. W. Knight and C. P. Grinnell of Ohio, the right of way through the county for the Interurban electric railway. The conditions imposed were practically the same as those under which the grant was secured in Macon county, but it was specified that the power house of the company should be located in Clinton.

JAKE WON.

Jury Decided That He Is Competent to Manage His Business.

All of Jake Troutman's grooming of his own person was not in vain in the county court. Wednesday a jury decided after a trial of several days that Jake was competent to manage his own estate. Those who attended the trial could scarcely recognize Troutman as the man with whom they were familiar. He was "slicked" up for looks, Jake proved at the trial and it now remains for him to prove it in practice.

Prosperity Bill, Emma Lou, Signal Bells and Anterose Were the Winners of Four Events—Some Notes.

There was considerable routine business before the board of supervisors this afternoon. Bridges and county roads for the building of the same formed the principal topic during the day. The bridge in which the citizens of Decatur are most interested is located on West Main street, spanning Stevens creek. The commissioners of the township have decided to replace it with a new one. The commissioners to whom the proposition was referred reported adversely but the proposal was granted by the board. The proceedings of the board follow:

BRIDGES.

The commissioners of highway of Decatur township asked county aid for a new bridge over Stevens creek, west of the city on the Harrison road. The matter was referred to the roads and bridge committee. Later the committee reported having examined the record and found that the bridge tax levy for 1890 was $50 on the $100, giving the commissioners $10.351821. In 1890 the levy was $50, giving the commissioners $12,111.66. Twenty cents on the $100 would give $11,620. The estimated cost of the bridge is $16,20. The estimated cost of the bridge not being $20 cents on the $100, the committee recommended that county aid not be well entertained. The weather conditions were at the last hardy favorable for summer clothes, especially when the weavers were compelled to sit without exercise in the grand stand.

2:18 TROT.

Unfinished from Wednesday was first called. Allen F., who did second in the first heat Wednesday, took the heat with Prosperity Bill second. The prettiest start of the meeting, up to this time, was in the next heat, the field being abreast.

They moved in a bunch to the stretch, Bernardo having taken a slight lead at the quarter pole. She won by a length, Mardi Gras and Allen F. being dropped for second and third place.

Prosperity Bill took the fifth and last heat. There was a hard drive in the stretch, Allen F. was second to the wire, but was passed last. There was a whipping match between Mardi Gras and Bernardo, the former winning second place because the latter was not in the last assessment. It was recommended that a special committee of three be appointed to confer with the highway commissioners of Wheatland township with reference to said repairs.

The same committee reported the cost of the work on the bridge in Wheatland township on the Taylorville road at $100. The county was to be liable for $800,000. Supervisor Best moved that in future the committees were appointed on bridge matters, that the members be selected from townships nearest the improvement.

The following report of a special committee was received and approved in regard to the cost of repairing the bridge in Blue Mound township. We ascertained that but two of the bridges would equal 20¢ on the $100,000 to be paid for two. The contract was given to the King Bridge company for $270 and removed to make room for its one.

On motion of Superintendent Jokisch the place of bridge letting is heretofore to be designated by the committee in charge.

THE COURT HOUSES.

The first court house of Christian county was built in 1840, at a cost of $2500 and was a frame structure. This was sold in 1854 to H. Vandevere for $270 and removed to make room for its one.

THE COURT HOUSES.

The first heat of the race was a pretty exhibition in the stretch between Signal Bells, Baron Waltzer and Anna F., finishing in the order named.

In the second heat Signal Bells went out ahead of the bunch in the style. On the back stretch there was a race that made them stand up and shout. Grace M., the team mare, challenged Signal Bells and the crowd thought she had a chance to win, but the boy was too much for her. Baron Waltzer got away from the wire with a lead in getting away.

The contract price of the new building is $80,000, which, with furnishings and extras, will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

The new building will cover an area measuring 90x117 feet, three stories in height. The facing will be of Bedford stone from grade line to cornice. The
